

Please proofread your paper very carefully since this is the last chance to make any minor editorial changes.

Proofreading Checklist:

1. Check accuracy and spelling of authors' names, full affiliations, country names and email addresses.
2. Make sure the running head is present and within the margins.
3. Check 2020 AMS classifications and keywords.
4. Check the appearance of equations.
5. Make sure all figures, tables, equations, and text are within the margins.
6. Check the appearance of figures.
7. Check spelling and grammar throughout the paper.
8. Make sure cited references, equations, and figures, etc. are linked correctly by clicking the hyperlinks within the paper.
9. Make sure information for all references is the most current and complete.
10. Check received date and revised date(s) if applicable at the end of the paper.
(Note that the early access date may change before publication.)

Only minor editorial changes are allowed. Please do not change:

1. Layout of the page
2. Formatting of the main text or references

If any major change is needed, please inform the production editor handling your paper. They will consult with the Managing Team of the journal. If you prefer to communicate with the managing team of the journal directly, please keep the production editor handling your paper cced with all correspondence so they can proceed accordingly. Please note that you may have to resubmit your paper as a new submission if any major changes need to be made. Major changes may include:

1. Title of paper
2. Removal or addition of authors
3. Research content
